

World Team Battle 2010 – it's semi finals!

The Autemo World Team Battle™... Perhaps, not as big as the soccer world cup in terms of numbers of spectators, but with 97 automotive design teams from 35 countries participating, the world Team Battle is the ultimate world cup of Automotive design.

The Autemo Automotive Design - World Team Battle 2010 semi final results are in, look what they did to the Vauxhaul Meriva 2010 on the next page!

Without further ado, the successful semi finalists are:

Belgium vs. Poland	Slovakia vs. Germany
--------------------	----------------------

Commiserations to those who were eliminated, but better luck next year!

Australia	Hungary	Netherlands	Switzerland
-----------	---------	-------------	-------------

On the following pages follows a few select photos from each round of the World Team Battle.

About Autemo

Autemo is the world's largest community for automotive design artists. Autemo also lets loose the creativity and talent of these artists on client projects through the Autemo website. People post up photos of their current cars, and describe with what mods they would like to see. Autemo artists have done work for magazines such as Hot4s and Banzai, and many individuals.
